

The San Diego Public Library

The San Diego Public Library
invites you to view

Marylou Tibaldo-Bongiorno's

Revolution '67

Photo donated by Corbis-Bettmann

The 1960s were in full heat. The Vietnam War, campus unrest, political assassinations and a defiant counter-culture were remaking the country. For African Americans, nonviolent protest was giving way to "black power" as the traditional Civil Rights Movement was seen as failing the aspirations of poor blacks in decaying urban centers.

FREE

6:30 pm, Monday, August 13

San Diego Public Library

Auditorium-3rd floor

820 E Street-San Diego

THE CITY OF SAN DIEGO

P.O.V. film screening

This information will be made available in alternative formats upon request.

www.sandiegolibrary.org